G R O U P

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to give a reference for Andrew Rudd who has been performing in The Cavern, Hong Kong's only Supper Club, from October 2004 until February 2006.

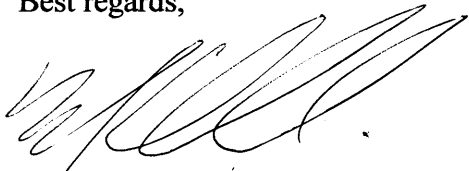

Andrew came to Hong Kong as a member of a Production Company called Sixties Mania. His initial role was lead guitar and back up vocals for two sets of sixties music featuring the Beatles. He then began to sing many songs in the production as it changed to more rock and roll style show called Superstars of Rock. He performed songs by David Bowie, Beatles and others while keeping his lead guitar role.

As a young man, Andrew has performed well, always on time and continually had ideas to make the shows more interesting. One of the highlights was Andrew leaving the stage and playing his guitar solos around the room and interacting with the guests. His energy level continually showed through out his performance.

As this was Andrews first fulltime gig in an overseas environment, we have seen Andrew come here as a boy and leaving as a man. I would recommend Andrew to anywhere his talents are needed and wish him every success as he has a long career ahead of him.
